

meiosis.org.uk

A small site that is interested in things botanical and historical, associated with the herbaria@home project

Thompson, Harold Stuart (1870-1940).

Posted on January 17, 2011 by Chris

Harold Stuart Thompson was the son of William T. Thompson and Agnes M. Fitzroy Thompson in 1870. He studied at the Sidcot and Bootham Schools, excelling in botany and physical geography.

He devoted his life to the study and collection of wild flowers, and toured extensively throughout Europe, particularly Switzerland, in order to obtain specimens. He was Honorary Secretary of the Watson Botanical Exchange Club, an associate of the Linnean Society, and a member of University Court at the University of Bristol.

He died on March 3, 1940, aged 69.

see also <http://www.archive.org/stream/subalpineplantsoothomrich>

There are some 4000 sheets associated with HST at Herbaria@home.

Related posts:

1. Bailey, Charles (1838 – 1924) Charles Bailey Born: 18th June 1838 – Coventry, Warwickshire. Died: Sept 1924...

This entry was posted in 19th Century, 20th Century, Botanists and tagged alpine, Thompson. Bookmark the permalink.

meiosis.org.uk

Proudly powered by WordPress.